The News According to Emmett

Well, most of the officers, and some ex members of our club have decided to get our newsletter from the Internet. Last month I asked our members if they wanted to do this and this is the tepid response I get!!! Let's get with it gang, if you could get the newsletter on the Internet, faster than snail mail, saving the club enough postage and printing expense, as well as saving Tony Salerno's love life wouldn't you do it? Please, if you have Internet access and Adobe 4.0, volunteer to receive your newsletter online.

Oh yeah, you can still send your money in to me for renewal on April 1st of every year. You all should have your club ID cards and that has your expiration date on it. Any ex-members I see on rides will be harassed by me or my agents. Please, do it for Tony.

I was on the great Mass Getaway for the Multiple Sclerosis (MS) Society to P-Town this weekend (June 24 & 25), so I'm forcing myself to write this column now (It hurts to sit, stand, walk, etc.). I did 160 miles with the group of 1200. There were several NSC riders on the ride: Janine and Paul DeGusto (bro and sis), Bill Stevens, Janet Nestor, Frank Roberts and myself. There were ex-members there too, but I will not mention their names. If I missed any other members, please harangue me. Special thanks to Janine and Paul for stopping and helping me with a flat I got at the beginning of the ride. Paul found a staple (yeah, we've got that!) in my tire and removed it, so I had to do the whole ride (dammit). Thanks, Paul, I owe you!

Ride safely,
Emmett

Be Safe, Be Careful

I just want to let you know what happened to us this evening on our ride recently:

We left Newburyport and headed up the coast and turned up Rte. 286 from the water. We stopped at Hodgies 2 for a much needed ice cream. It started to rain just after we left and headed towards the Chain Bridge in Newburyport. We crossed the first bridge that is relatively flat with just a few wiggles on the wet pavement. It was just enough to rattle my cage on the tandem. We decided to walk across the Chain bridge. That meant crossing the road to the sidewalk on the other side. We got across the bridge without any problems walking the bikes. On the other side there was enough of a break in the traffic to get back across the road. A car coming across the bridge slammed on his brakes sliding on the metal bridge and hitting the pavement coming to a stop. there was about 5 to 10-second lapse when a small pickup came sliding across the bridge unable to stop from hitting the stopped car. They collided and then another car hit the pickup about another 5 to 10 seconds after that. Nobody was hurt, thankfully. It should be a reminder that cars cannot stop at all on wet metal bridges and do not cross the road too close to the bridge. This is the first time that I ever felt my bike wiggle on a wet bridge. I do not know if it was because of the tandem or just all weather conditions combined. I may think twice on my single next time also. This is just a reminder to be completely aware of all possibilities when out there riding.

Let's all be safe out there,
Eric Shaktman

VOLUNTEERS

DON'T PUT OFF TODAY WHAT SHOULD HAVE BEEN DONE YESTERDAY...in my case I had forgot to post an article in earlier newsletters looking for volunteers for the club Century coming up in August. I have already heard from the always faithful members who volunteer every year, but there a lot of new members who are dying to get involved with the Clubs biggest event. We are looking for members to fill positions in route marking, registration, check-in, rest stops, and clean up. This is a two day affair, so there are plenty of jobs for everyone. So get involved, and call either Bob, 978-887-3855, or Tony 978-352-2524, to enlist your services for THE BLAZING SADDLES CENTURY, AUGUST 26 & 27.

visit the llamas, go out to Ipswich neck for the view, or cruise along the Manchester-Beverly coast--wherever the sun shines and the wind is at our back. Maybe a quick stop for water, but otherwise we'll just pause to regroup. We'll be back at Masco by noon or so.

Maps? Yup, you might want to bring one. Cue sheets? Arrows? Nope.

Directions to Masco: From Route 95 take exit 51 (Endicott St) east towards Topsfield. The school is 1/4 mile on right. The ride leaves from the parking lot (at the far end from Rte 95).

Presidential Notes

Please don't bite my volunteers department.- The volunteers of this bike club do a lot. They lead rides, publish newsletters, maintain a web site and E-mail list, and fill out insurance forms that could put any ADHD poster child into a coma. Please cut them some slack. If the ride leader included some bumpy roads, or the newsletter is a little late, or the web site has a bum link, don't sweat it. It's just recreation. The folks who do this stuff fit it in among careers and family. They don't deserve a continuous thrashing. Thank them because the ride is scenic, the newsletter has a decent schedule, and the web doesn't leave a cookie. It could be worse- you could be driving to Brockton this weekend to ride with CRW. For real complaints, my number is listed.

Mechanically challenged dept.- On a mid-May Tuesday night ride, a new rider showed up ready to go, except she couldn't get her bike out of her car. It was a compact car with the rear seat folded down, and the bike spanned the trunk and rear seat areas. Riders were gathered in the middle of the parking lot getting ready to start the ride. One by one people drifted over to her car to help and did not come back. Eventually everybody (including myself) was working on the puzzle, including one who wasn't even going to ride. By this time, the owner of the bike and car was completely out of the loop. A dozen or more bike riders were totally goal-fixated on getting that bike out of that car. Finally a group decision was made to start disassembling the bike in-situ. That looked easier than taking the car body apart. The call went out from inside the car for wrenches. At that point, the owner had enough. She firmly but politely thanked everybody and chased the group away from the vehicle, telling us she would try again another week. I hope she does; I'd love to learn how she finally did get the bike out of the car. It was like one of those puzzles with the intertwined bent nails- you know there has got to be an easy way but it sure doesn't jump out at you.

New tech department- now this is cool. I'm doing this dispatch on my Palm IIIe. I got a GoType keyboard that hooks to the docking port of the Palm. The Palm is on or near me most of the time (but I don't ride with it). The keyboard is larger but also easily carried. The rig functions sort of like a laptop, but boots up in 1/100 of the time and costs 1/20 as much. I can do most of what I need to do anywhere (like in the Jeep before a ride), then synch it up to my PC at home and e-mail the results wherever they have to go. Can't do much actual engineering work this way (could do more with a laptop) but this works great for spinning out text. The keyboard is just a little too small for fast accurate typing, and it seems to accelerate the battery drain on the Palm unit, but I recommend the rig to anybody with stuff to do and not enough time to do it.

Transit Authority Dept.- Missed the Tuesday ride on May 23, which I had intended to ride, because the Jeep ran over at the weld shop. I had the rear of the frame reinforced and extended and a big, beefy bumper with a receiver hitch installed. Now I can use the hitch mount bike rack we bought for our pickup on the Jeep. Tried the rig out for the first time going down to the Thursday night ride on May 25. It's nice having the extra room inside the Jeep. Jeeps are exactly like bikes and boats: even when you think you have them just the way you want them, you think of some new improvement. Next up: an extender for the receiver so I can carry a spare tire as well as the bike (though I've been driving the Jeep for a decade, well over 100K miles, and never had a flat). I've got to get a new top. And I've got to get a radio back in it for travelling to the upcoming centuries.

See you on the road,

Ed Bolton
